

BIG QUESTION: Does shape influence our taste?

Your class has been contacted by a company who are developing a new app for computers and tablets to help children in Years 4, 5 and 6 learn about different types of foods and tastes. The animators have already decided on names for the two main characters in the app. They have called them Kiki and Bouba. Their next job is to decide what the characters are going to look like. They have made a start by outlining the shape of the characters and are now looking for advice on how to develop them further. Do you think you would be able to help?

Which shape would you call Kiki? Why?

Which shape would you call Bouba? Why?

Write the names above your chosen shapes on the character sheet provided.

Which shape do you think should taste sour? Which shape do you think should taste sweet? Why do you think this?

Write this above the shapes.

If you could choose any colour for your characters, what colour would you make each shape? Why?

Can you add any additional details to your shapes, such as facial characteristics, limbs or clothing? Think carefully about what type of characters Kiki and Bouba should be.
